WICHITA MARKETS.

The Receipts of Stock at the Wichita Union Stock Yards for the Past 24 Eours were: Cattle Light; Hogs 237 Shipments: Cattle, None; Hogs, 72 and Horses and Mules, 25.

WICHITA, Oct. 7. The recipis in the cattle market today were light. Good butcher stuff is in de-mand and would sell readily and slightly stronger. There is no change in the market but good butcher cows and beifers would have sold from 5 to 10 cents stronger. The offerings were a low grade. The best cows were strong to higher and good butcher stuff would find a ready sale,

The quotations here presented are to give the shipper as ides of the general range of prices. The various classes and grades sell within the limits of these quotations according to the quality of offerings and the state of the daily markets. These quotations are only changed when there has note a permanent change in the general market. The representative sales should be referred to to get the cally fluctuations.

REPRESENTATIVE SALES. The following are the repre-

The hog mark-t was stendy today and the recipis were moderate. The quality of the offerings was not as good as ye terday and there is considerable of a demand for good hogs. Good hogs will find a ready sale. Eastern buyers competed for vagon bogs today, which is rather a new phase in the market. Eastern shippers were willing buyers throughout the day, There are too many half fattened hogs on the market and these do not find as ready sale. The market closed steady. REPRESENTATIVE BALES

AN ENGLISH EMBEZZLER.

Captured at Detroit After Severa Months' Persistent Search. Along in the glad June time Mr. Sidney Old asked for a vacation. He was secre-tary and cashier for Fisher, Renwick & Co., composing the Dry Dock and Jetty company (limited), of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. He had worked arduously, and his employers were glad to recognize his faithfulness by giving him a fortnight's leave MERCHANTS of absence. He

Mr. William Gray, a stockholder of the company, who chanced to be in New York, was informed of the facts and promptly lodged a complaint with Inspector Byrnes. Several of the noted thief taker's sleuths took the trail and learned that Mr. Old, under the alias of Samuel Owens, had gone west after stopping in Gotham for a few days. Trace of him was for the time com-

But Fisher, Renwick & Co. had no notion of letting the robber escape. They sent over Inspector Stokes, of the New-castle force, who promptly sought out Inspector Byrnes. As a result of their private confab circulars and photographs were mailed to all the chief American cities and a reward of $500 was offered for the fugitive's capture. A Detroit police officer who chanced to see the description and portrait resolved to earn the mo possible. So he spent his hours off duty in public resorts, and was lucky enough to find Mr. Old at the Hotel Normandie. When arrested the fugitive confessed that and for a time he was the man sought for, and in due | was not on view course of time started on the return voyage to England in custody of the Newcastle

M. Raspail, a distinguished Frenchman, has begun an anticat crusade. He wants Tabby disqualified as a domestic animal because she is responsible for the destruction of birds' nests and a consequent serious diminution of valued feathered friends. Some insectivorous species, he says, are becoming very rare, while the ravages of parasites on useful plants are extending. Boys, of course, do a great deal of the mischief; and of the various animals which attack nests (the squirrel, the hedge-Raspail regards the cat as the worst offender. On a recently wooded property of about seven acres he observed last year as follows: Out of thirty-seven nests carefully watched only eight succeeded, twenty-nine were destroyed, fourteen of these by the cat, though efforts had been made to ward off this insatiable marauder. A curious controversy is agitating the Ellilay Baptist association in Georgia. A few years ago the society split in two on the liquor question. Since then one wing has fought whisky, while the other has advocated it. In the latter faction is numbered the Rev. Julius Pickett. He fitted up a distillery, got a government license and went into the manufacture of the article. The association to which Mr. Pickett belongs has just decided that no clergymen will be permitted to engage in the distilling of liquor, though the right of drinking it is not taken away from them. Mr. Pickett will fight for his "personal rights," and will be sustained by his congregation.

WILLIAM HAS WHISKERS

THE TRUE REASON WHY THE KAISER TARRIED AT SEA.

He Declined to Go Ashere Until His Beard Was Grown-Some Speculation as to the Change in His Appearance-Possibilities Illustrated.

The young emperor of Germany has asserted himself in many ways since he came to the throne. He has dispensed with Bismarck, adopted civil and military policies of his own, practically declared his autocracy and countenanced by personal praise the customs in vogue among students. He has dared to criticise the connection of the Prince of Wales with the baccarat scandal, his spoken of WITH A MUSTACHE. teers as a lot of half drilled tradesmen, has professed indifference to Russian designs, and was only restrained by the strongest arguments from pitching into France after the Paris mob insulted his widowed mother. Just now public attention is directed toward him, not on account of any warlike utterance or declaration of purposes, but because he has made a change in his personal appearance. Some weeks ago, that is soon after leaving England, the kaiser boarded the imperial yacht, to any save the sailors, his servants and immediate family. All Europe wondered at this retion in the town of Poplar Bluff, Mo., the | tirement and held its breath. Was the impetuous broken out of the young ruler conyoung rules cocting a plan of descampaign des-

But one fact got to the general ear. That began work in the was that William had hurt his knee by morning, cut a a fall and was temporarily confined to hole through the his cabin. On this superstructure of floor of the iron corridor and dug a tunnel truth the papers outside of Germany that reached beyond the outer brick wail. built sensational edifices of falsehood. his whiskers grew. He undoubtedly is immensely proud of his new acquisition, for he has issued an order that no more pictures shall be sold in Germany which show him with a mustache only. As a result there is great activity in art circles, and en-gravers, lithographers and photographers are hard at work getting out portraits of their sovereign as he now appears. Some weeks must elapse before pic tures of the bearded kaiser can reach America, and while waiting for them it will do no harm to indulge in a little anticipatory speculation. Has the young monarch given a Vandyke, a Boulanger or a Walt Whitman twist to his whiskers? Do they look like his father's or
